Notes for Kaufmann LEVI ELIAS:

Breinchen Kander was a housemaid for Kaufmann and Beschen Levi-Elias. All three were murdered by a thief. I consider all three to be notable as crime victims in a time and place where I would consider such an event to be highly unusual.

Below are translations of several articles, which all describe the event with some varying details:

In this quiet and peaceful little country town, one day in 1876, there was a jarring event. A threefold robbery, committed in the dark of the night, deeply agitated the residents. Our chronicler wrote down this report three days later:
December 10, 1876. On the morning of the 7th of December, the city was set in great terror and excitement by a threefold murder committed on the night of the 6th to the 7th of May, a servant named Vinson, a native of Waldenberg, Gelnhausen district, who had been serving with Mr. Oeconom Noll for a short time, sneaked several times into the house of the merchant Levi Elias under all sorts of conditions in order to orientate himself on his planned project, until after several days he managed to carry out the terrible deed. On the evening above, he returned to the house on the pretext of buying cattle and talked with the family until about 10 o'clock, at which time (without any illusions) old Elias went to bed and, believing himself safe from any external disturbance, he killed first the wife of the merchant Elias, then his maid, who desperately fought back. And then the villain, who did not yet rest, climbed the upper floor to make an end to the old man's life as well. The motive of this terrible act was greed for money, for after these three murders, P. Vinson went home, went to bed until about 1 o'clock, then got up again and went back into the house, now to plunder the money box, which he believed to be full. But here the murderer had made a mistake, and got only a very small amount of 15 marks. When unlocking the iron money box, the key broke off, and he had to pull off without doing anything. As a punishment, he was sentenced to life imprisonment. " translated from Friedrich Dott:

Article in the magazine "Der Israelit" of December 15, 1875: " Gudensberg , December 9 (1875) Yesterday a horrible crime was committed, namely, a threefold murder of Elias, his wife and maid. "

key he had authorized broke off, so that the whole robbery consisted of four thalers[dollars]. Blessed Elias counted 88 years; his wife was younger. Their souls are involved in the covenant of life. "

Article in the magazine "The Israelite" of December 22, 1875: " Gudensberg, further details of the murder of Mr. Elias and his wife, as well as their maid: In any case, the deed was accomplished before 10 o'clock in the evening, as the door had remained unlocked all night, and the parlor lamp had been extinguished. The man was killed in bed, the woman found stabbed in the armchair. The maid was busy with a sewing job when death from a murderous hand reached her. The murderer total take of the horrific deed was 4 thalers [dollars], which were in the room in a desk, which he broke into. He has already been identified and arrested in the person of the servant Vinzon from Waldensberg (colony) near Hanau. Traces of blood on his garments and in his bed led to discovery. Vinzon wore the suspenders of the murdered man. He is a robust man and of a gigantic appearance. It is based on the presumption that the murderer had spent the evening of the act with Mrs. Elias and the maid smoking in the room. These two victims, according to one statement, were not smothered, but have been slain by a peasant's hammer, like Merchant Elias, who was lying up a flight of stairs in bed. The discovery of the hammer that exactly fit into the three wounds is said to have accelerated the discovery.

A much bigger tragedy, however, was the robbery that caused the whole town to the greatest excitement. Right next to our house lived an uncle of my late father, a man of 83, with his 76-year-old wife and about 40 years old Jewish maid. He was the richest man of the area, but very unpopular because of his stinginess. On a December night in 1875, the three people were murdered by a servant of the largest farm in the town. The two old people were hit with a hammer, but the servant had resisted with scissors and injured the killer, which brought about his discovery after a few days. Apart from the existing cash only a few small things were robbed. Translated from aus einer kleinen Stadt. In- Volk und Scholle. 2. Jg. Melsungen 1923.

Thanks to Hans-Peter Klein of Melsungen who told me of the event and provided the above resources.

Notes for Helene ABT:

According to Mark Elias, her grandson, she returned to Germany to "settle her affairs" and died there suddenly. It was always Mark's understanding that she died of natural causes. Her son Moritz died suddenly of a stroke so Mark surmised that may have been her fate as well. Mark indicated that Günter Nashelsky had posed the possibility that she was killed by the Nazis, but there is no evidence either way.

The ship's manifest for her arrival in the US in 1935 indicates that her US contact was Julius Naschelsky, but that her final destination was Hamburg, indicating an intent to return. I was unable to find any record of her return or death.

From http://stolpersteine.rotenburg.hassia-judaica.de/erich\_levi.html:

Erich Levi, geb. am 29. Juli 1905 in Rotenburg, war der Sohn von Joseph Levi, der aus Ronshausen stammte und die Rotenburgerin Rosalie Linz geheiratet hatte, die jüngere Tochter von Susmann Simon Linz. Erichs Vater Joseph Levi starb im Oktober 1935, bis dahin hatte die Familie den Manufakturwaren- und Textilladen in der Brückengasse 12 in Rotenburg geführt.

Abiturient in Hersfeld, Referendar in Kassel
Das Geschäft ging offenbar gut, denn die Eltern konnten ihrem Sohn den Besuch des Hersfelder Gymnasiums ermöglichen, an dem er 1924 das Abitur ablegte; anschließend studierte er Jura. Zum Zeitpunkt der NS-Machtübernahme war Erich Levi als Referendar am Kasseler Landgericht. Jedoch schon im Februar 1933 verlor er die Stelle.

Die Schreibmaschine wird konfisziert
In einer Stellungnahme der Rotenburger Ortpolizeibehörde vom 27.11.1933 ist vom „flüchtigen Referendar Erich Levi“ die Rede. Er wurde beschuldigt, zusammen mit dem Kaufmann Hermann Linz II bei der Herstellung kommunistischer Flugblätter beteiligt gewesen zu sein, was schon im März 1933 zur Konfiszierung der dafür angeblich genutzten Adler-Schreibmaschine geführt hatte. In Kenntnis der Tatsache, dass Hermann Linz II bei der republiktreuen Staatspartei und im Reichsbanner aktiv war, ist die Anschuldigung, die gegen die beiden erhoben wurde, kaum nachvollziehbar.

Erich Levi als besondere Zielscheibe
Aus einem ganz anderen Grund aber ist erklärbar, dass Erich Levi schon im Februar, also Wochen vor dem 7. April 1933, dem Datum des Gesetzes zur „Wiederherstellung des Berufsbeamtentums“, eine besondere Zielscheibe der neuen Machthaber geworden war.
Erich Levi hatte sich im Juni 1932 öffentlich gegen die antijüdische Hetzkampagne gestellt, welche die lokale NSDAP-Ortsgruppe mit dem Göttinger Propagandisten Rosenthal veranstaltete, um den „böartigen Charakter des Talmud“ nachzuweisen.

Offener Brief im Rotenburger Tageblatt

In einem Offenen Brief, den das Rotenburger Tageblatt am Tag der Veranstaltung abdruckte, ließ Erich Levi die Öffentlichkeit wissen, die NSDAP habe es abgelehnt, bei ihrer vorgeblichen „Aufklärungsveranstaltung“ einen jüdischen Talmudexperten in der Diskussion zu Wort kommen zu lassen. Als Reaktion auf die fehlende Diskussionsbereitschaft der Rotenburger NSDAP machte Erich Levi die Bevölkerung auf einen Vortrag des aus Rotenburg stammenden Rabbiners Dr. Leopold Neuhaus mit dem Thema „Die Wahrheit über den Talmud“ aufmerksam.

Bericht in der Jüdischen Wochenzeitung

Über den Verlauf der Veranstaltung in Rotenburg gab Erich Levi in der Kasseler Jüdischen Wochenzeitung einen ausführlichen Bericht, in dem er darlegte, „dass die falschen und verleumderischen Behauptungen unter der Bevölkerung nur verbreitet würden, um die Juden in den Augen ihrer Mitmenschen herabzuwürdigen und die Volksseele zu vergiften.“

Referat über Hugo Preuß

Auch in Kassel war Erich Levis Wirkungskreis nicht auf sein berufliches Umfeld beschränkt. Laut Jüdischer Wochenzeitung vom 9. Dezember 1932 referierte er dort vor der Jugendgruppe des Centralvereins deutscher Staatsbürger jüdischen Glaubens über „Hugo Preuß, Schöpfer der Reichsverfassung“.

Flucht nach Holland

Erich Levi konnte sich 1933 durch die Flucht nach Holland zunächst dem Zugriff seiner Häscher entziehen. Mit dem Einmarsch der deutschen Truppen in Holland am 10. Mai 1940 war aber sein Schicksal besiegelt. Im April 1943 wurde er in das Vernichtungslager Sobibór verschleppt und dort am 9. April 1943 ermordet.

Seinen Eltern blieb ein ähnliches Schicksal erspart, sie waren bereits verstorben. Das Wohn- und Geschäftshaus der Levis in der Brückengasse war im März 1940 versteigert worden.

Vernichtungslager Sobibór

Das Lager Sobibór war neben Belzec ausschließlich als Vernichtungslager eingerichtet worden. Jules Schelvis, einer der wenigen Überlebenden, hat in seinem erschütternden Buch "Vernichtungslager Sobibór" Details mitgeteilt: Sobibór befand sich abseits in einer dünnbesiedelten Gegend, aber gut erreichbar, weil an der Bahnlinie Chelm-Wlodawa an einem Nebengleis gelegen. Auf der Eisenbahnrampe wurden die Deportierten in Empfang genommen. Gleich nach ihrer Ankunft mussten sie in der Entkleidungsbaracke Geld und Wertsachen abgeben und sich ihrer Kleider entledigen.

Tod durch Kohlenmonoxyd

Unter dem Vorwand, sie sollten duschen, wurden sie durch den "Schlauch", einen etwa 200 m langen, von Elektrozaunen begrenzten und mit Zweigen getarnten Gang in das "Bad" geführt, das in Wirklichkeit eine Gaskammer war. Daraufhin leiteten die Täter die kohlenmonoxydhaltigen Abgase eines Dieselmotors in die Kammern. Die Leichen wurden nach versteckten Wertsachen untersucht, ihre Goldzähne herausgebrochen, die Haare abgeschnitten und die Körper schließlich in Massengräbern im Wald verscharrt, ab Sommer 1942 verbrannt.

In 15 Monaten 250.000 Ermordete

Im Oktober 1942 gingen in Sobibór sechs neue Gaskammern in Betrieb, in denen rund 1.300 Menschen gleichzeitig umgebracht werden konnten. Über 250.000 Menschen sind dort innerhalb von 15 Monaten ermordet worden. Betrieben wurde das fast industriell betriebene Vernichtungslager von etwa 40 SS-Angehörigen und etwa 100 sowjetischen Kriegsgefangenen ukrainischer Herkunft. Als Mitwisser des Verbrechens wurden die Helfershelfer in regelmäßigen Abständen von der SS umgebracht und durch neue Häftlinge ersetzt.

"Verschollen"

Da keine Namenslisten angelegt worden sind und das Lager Ende 1943 dem Erdboden gleich gemacht wurde, um alle Spuren zu verwischen, wissen wir nur, dass alle Deportierten wenige Stunden nach ihrer Ankunft in Sobibór umgebracht worden sind. Sie gelten offiziell als "verschollen". So auch Erich Levi.

Google Translation:

Erich Levi, born on July 29, 1905 in Rotenburg, was the son of Joseph Levi, a native of Ronshausen and had married Rosalie Rotenburgerin Linz, the younger daughter of Simon Susmann Linz. Erich's father Joseph Levi died in October 1935 by then the family had led the Manufakturwaren- and textile shop in Bridge Street 12 in Rotenburg.

Graduate in Hersfeld, clerk in Kassel

The business apparently went well, because the parents could allow their son to visit the Hersfelder Gymnasium, where in 1924 completed her secondary education; then he studied law. At the time of the Nazi takeover Erich Levi was as a trainee at the Kassel district court. However, in February 1933, he lost the place.

The typewriter we confiscated

In a statement, the Rotenburg local police from 27.11.1933 from the "volatile trainee Erich Levi" is mentioned. He was accused of having been involved, together with the merchant Hermann Linz II in the manufacture of communist leaflets, which had already led in March 1933 for the confiscation of it allegedly used Adler typewriter. Knowing the fact that Hermann Linz II was active in the republic faithful ruling party and the Reich Banner, is the accusation that was made against the two, hardly comprehensible.

Erich Levi as a special target

From a completely different reason but is explainable that Erich Levi was already in February, so weeks before 7 April, 1933, the date of the Act to "Restoration of Civil Service", a special target of the new rulers.

Erich Levi had placed himself in June 1932 publicly against the anti-Jewish hate campaign, which organized the local NSDAP group with the Göttingen propagandists Rosenthal to detect the "vicious character of the Talmud".

Open letter in Rotenburger Diary

In an open letter, to the Tageblatt Rotenburger reprinted on the day of the event, Erich Levi let the public know the NSDAP had refused to leave when they were purported "educational event" a Jewish Talmud experts come into the discussion to speak. In response to the lack of willingness to discuss the Rotenburg NSDAP Erich Levi made the population to a presentation of the originating from Rotenburg Rabbi Dr. Leopold Neuhaus with the theme "The Truth About the Talmud" attention.

Report in the Jewish weekly newspaper

Over the course of the event in Rotenburg Erich Levi gave in Kassel's Jewish weekly newspaper a detailed report, in which he stated, "that the false and defamatory allegations would only spread among the population, to degrade the Jews in the eyes of those around them and the people's soul poison. "

Talk about Hugo Preuss

Also in Kassel Erich Levi sphere was not limited to his professional environment. According to Jewish weekly newspaper of 9 December 1932, he lectured there before the youth group of the Central Association of German Citizens of Jewish Faith on "Hugo Preuss, creator of the constitution".

Escape to Holland

Erich Levi could first escape the clutches of his captors in 1933 by fleeing to Holland. With the entry of German troops in Holland on 10 May 1940 but his fate was sealed. In April 1943 he was deported to the Sobibor extermination camp and murdered there on April 9, 1943rd

His parents remained a similar fate spared, she had already died. The residential and commercial building of Levis in Brückengasse was auctioned in March 1940th

Sobibor extermination camp

The camp Sobibor was set up next to Belzec exclusively as an extermination camp. Jules Schelvis, one of the few survivors, informed in his shocking book "extermination camp Sobibor" Details: Sobibor was located away in a sparsely populated area, but easy to reach because situated on the railway line Chelm-Wlodawa on a siding. On the rail ramp the deportees were received. Immediately after their arrival, they had to give in the undressing barracks money and valuables and to get rid of her clothes.

Death by carbon monoxide

Under the pretext that they should take a shower, they were led by the "tube", a 200m long, bordered by electric fences and camouflaged with branches transition into the "Bad", which in reality was a gas chamber. Then the perpetrators initiated the kohlenmonoxydhaltigen exhaust of a diesel engine in the chambers. The bodies were examined for hidden valuables, their gold teeth broken, their hair cut off and the body eventually buried in mass graves in the forest, burned from summer 1942nd

In 15 months 250,000 murdered
In October 1942, six new gas chambers were in operation in Sobibor, where some 1,300 people were killed at the same time. About 250,000 people have been killed there within 15 months. Farms was almost industrially operated extermination camp of about 40 SS men and about 100 Soviet POWs Ukrainian origin. As accomplices of the crime, the accomplice were killed periodically by the SS and replaced by new prisoners.

"Lost"

Since no name lists have been created and the camp was taken in late 1943 to the ground to obliterate all traces, we only know that all deportees were killed a few hours after their arrival in Sobibor. They are officially known as "lost". So Erich Levi.

The young family found a place for a while with Hans-Rolf Nagel's mother Julie Rosenfeld , b. Rosenberg. After her divorce from Carl Nagel in 1938 , she married August Rosenfeld , born on September 14, 1875 in Neuwied, who was once her lodger. Both were deported to Theresienstadt on July 30, 1942. A son from the first marriage, Karl Heinrich Nagel, brother of Hans-Rolf, had fled to the USA in 1938 and lived in Little Neck, New York.

Before their deportation, Julie and August Rosenfeld had to move to Fritschestraße 5, then Clausewitzstraße 2. Undoubtedly, over the years, persecuted persons had to squander the vast majority of their home-style home furnishings due to their forced moves to smaller homes. The remaining furniture in the apartment Clausewitzstraße were used after the deportation of the persecuted on October 6, 1942 by the then Chief Finance President, the proceeds amounted to only 30.80 RM.

Karl Heinrich Nagel, as sole heir, was compensated in 1959 with an amount of 5,000 DM for the loss of the home furnishings.

Kaufman Karl NAGEL married Julie ROSENBERG on 29 May 1908 in Berlin, Berlin, Germany<sup>508</sup>.

Notes for Hans ELIAS:

The anatomist Hans Elias: A Jewish German in exile.

Hildebrandt S1.

Hans Elias (1907 to 1985) was an anatomist, an educator, a mathematician, a cinematographer, a painter, and a sculptor. Above all, he was a German of Jewish descent, who had to leave his home country because of the policies of the National Socialist (NS) regime. He spent his life in exile, first in Italy and then in the USA. His biography is exemplary for a generation of younger expatriates from National Socialist Germany who had to find a new professional career under difficult circumstances. Elias was a greatly productive morphologist whose artistic talent led to the foundation of the new science of stereology and made him an expert in scientific cinematography. He struggled hard to fulfill his own high expectations of himself in terms of his effectiveness as a scientist, educator, and politically acting man in this world. Throughout his life this strong-willed and outspoken man never lost his great fondness for Germany and many of its people, while reserving some of his sharpest criticism for fellow anatomists who were active in National Socialist Germany, among them his friend Hermann Stieve, Max Clara, and Heinrich von Hayek. Hans Elias' life is well documented in his unpublished diaries and memoirs, and thus allows fresh insights into a time period when some anatomists were among the first victims of NS policies and other anatomists became involved in the execution of such policies.

Emigration on 08.02.1934 from Bremerhaven to many years living in the USA brother in Woodward / Oklahoma and later to Fowler / Colorado and 1946 to Denver / Colorado (Compensation Act Julius Naschelsky)

Son Dr. Gunter Martin Nashelsky studied medicine and worked as a doctor in San Francisco. (Compensation Act Gunter Martin Nashelsky)

Son Dieter Naschelsky worked as a salesman, at times in a shoe store in San Francisco and opened in 1949 in Mitchell / Nebraska a "5 and 10 Cents Store". "The existence of strings, to entertain a 4 person family accordingly." (Compensation Act Dieter Naschelsky).

Whether Helene Elias emigrated to the USA seems unlikely, since in a letter from Julius Naschelsky from the compensation records of only 5 people are talking about.

Hintergasse 1

Julius Naschelsky wurde als Sohn von Rosa und David Naschelsky am 7.8.1887 geboren. Er lebte in der Fritzlarer Straße 14. Im Haus daneben hatten seine Eltern seit 1902 einen Frisiersalon und eine Fahrradhandlung. Nach seiner Lehre übernahm Julius Naschelsky das Fahrradgeschäft seines Vaters.

1919 heiratete Julius Naschelsky Friedericke Elias, deren Eltern Marcus und Helene Elias Inhaber eines Brillenladens in der Hintergasse 1 waren; hier wohnte nun auch Familie Naschelsky. Das Ehepaar bekam drei Kinder: Dieter (geb. 6.3.1920), Erna-Margot (geb. 6.7.1921) und Martin-Günter (geb. 7.7.1926).

Julius Naschelsky war ein erfolgreicher Geschäftsmann, der 1927 das 25-jährige Geschäftsjubiläum feiern konnte und zeitgleich in neu erbaute Geschäftsräume umzog. Dazu schrieb die Gudensberger Zeitung am 2.7.1927: Am Montag kann die Firma J. Naschelsky, Fahrradhandlung, den Tag feierlich begehen, an dem sie vor 25 Jahren gegründet wurde. Aus kleinen Anfängen heraus hat der Geschäftsinhaber durch Fleiß und Tüchtigkeit das Geschäft auf die heutige Höhe gebracht. Der Fahrradhandlung und Reparaturwerkstatt hat er nach dem Kriege eine Leder- und Lederwarenhandlung angegliedert. Am Mittwoch wird der moderne Neubau mit zwei großen Schaufenstern in der Kassel-Frankfurter-Straße bezogen. Möge das Geschäft weitere 25 Jahre blühen und gedeihen.

Auch in den Vereinen seiner Heimatstadt war Julius Naschelsky aktiv: 1922 und 1923 berichtete die Zeitung über Ehrungen für seine Tätigkeit im Schützenverein und beim Roten Kreuz.

Nach der Machtergreifung der Nationalsozialisten wurde Julius Naschelsky am 30.6.1933 von der NSDAP-Ortsgruppe Gudensberg verhaftet und zum Karlshof in Wabern gebracht. Dort wurde er schwer misshandelt. Nach drei Tagen kam er zurück nach Gudensberg und stand zunächst in seinem Haus unter Hausarrest, bevor er ins Karlishospital nach Kassel und einige Tage später ins Gerichtsgefängnis am Königstor kam. Vom 16.7.1933 bis zum 15.10.1933 wurde er erneut in seinem Haus in Gudensberg unter Hausarrest gestellt. Diese Maßnahme wurde getroffen, damit die Öffentlichkeit nichts von den schweren Misshandlungen an jüdischen Bürgern erfuhr.

Die Familie plante nun ihre Auswanderung zu einem seit Jahren in den USA lebenden Bruder von Julius Naschelsky. Am 11. 10 1933 erschien in der Gudensberger Zeitung folgende Anzeige: Fortzugshalber bitte ich alle diejenigen, die noch Forderungen an mich haben sollten, sich auf dem Bürgermeisteramt Gudensberg zu melden. Julius Naschelsky Gudensberg. Am 7.1. 1934 meldete die Gudensberger Zeitung lapidar: Das Geschäftshaus des Fahrradhändlers J. Naschelsky ging durch Kauf in die Hände der Firma Gebrüder Pilgram über.

Familie Naschelsky konnte am 8.2.1934 in die USA fliehen und sich eine neue Existenz aufbauen. Julius Naschelsky litt zeitlebens an den Folgen der erlittenen Misshandlungen.

Das Haus Hintergasse 1 wurde 1936 verkauft. Helene Elias musste aus Gudensberg fliehen. Über ihr weiteres Schicksal ist nichts bekannt.

From <http://stolpersteine.jimdo.com/biografien/familie-elias-und-burghardt/>:

Martha Elias (1895-1944) and Otto Max Elias (1897-1944) lived with their parents Bertha Elias (née Frank, 1871-1943) and Julius Elias (1866-1932) at Schillerstrasse 38 in Kassel until 1933. The family runs a sports shop at Kleine Rosenstrasse 1. After an anti-Semitic attack on the shop in April 1933, Bertha, Otto and Martha and Martha's daughter Ruth Marion Pauline (1924-2006) emigrate to the Netherlands.

The German, Jewish family becomes an immigrant family in the midst of numerous German immigrants in Amsterdam. War and mass extermination followed, and of the German family Elias Burghardt from Kassel, only Ruth survived. She leaves Europe at the first opportunity in October 1946. In Uruguay, the small branch of Elias blossoms again. A next generation is born, others will follow. The years of persecution and the pain of loss are carried through life as an unprocessed package and shape each generation of the family in its own way. Lies are told and speech and even knowledge bans are issued. The focus is on the present. And she is wonderful. The small branch of the family grows through many countries and puts down roots in Switzerland. The family grows and remains a committed, debating and loving community. In 2006, the survivor Ruth left this world with the help of a dying organization. It was inconceivable for her to go to the hospital, where strangers could decide whether to live or die. Ruth, who was born in Berlin, grew up in Kassel and Amsterdam and died in Zurich, could not deal with death, she could no longer love the German language and the fear that something could happen to her loved ones was always present. But she could laugh until she cried. She made you feel protected and valuable. She cooked the best polpetes and her stuffed eggs are so delicious that to this day they are a must at any family celebration. Ruth's eldest daughter is making them now.

Bertha, Martha and Ruth have descendants in Switzerland and France. These were and are missing grandparents, great-grandparents, cousins, etc., because many of their ancestors were murdered. But the memory and the family saying are alive.

No hai mal que por bien no venga. [Every cloud has a silver lining.]

The young couple with their little daughter lived at Gervinusstraße 18 at the end of the 1930s. Before their deportation, presumably in 1942, Hans-Rolf, Hanni and Tana Nagel had to leave the apartment in Gervinusstraße and follow Berliner Straße 97 to Walter and Ursula Heymann a young couple (born 1915 and 1916) who were deported to Auschwitz on 2 March 1943 and 24 August 1943. Hans-Rolf, Hanni and Tana Nagel first had to report to the collection point at Levetzowstraße 7-8, a former Jewish synagogue, and then had to jostle for a train that went to Auschwitz with 1,143 people.

On March 6, 1943, they arrived there, 643 of them were killed immediately in the gas chambers in Birkenau, among them was certainly the child.

Notes for Franz Gunther EYCK:

EYCK F. GUNTHER EYCK F. Gunther Eyck of Alexandria, VA died on Sunday, October 18, 2009 at age 97. In the course of a long life he was a teacher, author, and government official. Born in Magdeburg, Germany in 1912, he was the second child of Hans and Erna Eyck. His education in that country ended with the Nazi rise to power in 1933. He emigrated to Palestine where he worked as a farm hand, taxi driver, and hotel clerk. In 1941, he joined the British Army's Royal Corps of Signals, serving as a dispatch rider in Egypt. His earlier schooling and teaching ability led to his transfer to the Army Educational Corps in 1944. Demobilized in 1946, he briefly taught for the British Council before emigrating to the U.S. where much of his family had taken refuge in the late 1930's. Resuming his academic career, he received a B.A. degree from Alma College, Alma, MI; and M.A. and Ph.D. from New York University (NYU), and a M.Sc. in library science from Columbia University, finishing his studies in 1955. Finding both love and home, he married Lisa Baruch, an American citizen, in 1948 and was naturalized in 1950. He taught modern European history at NYU, Rutgers University, and the University of Texas, and joined the newly founded School of International Service as a part-time lecturer in 1959. He served that school for forty-seven years, rising to the rank of Distinguished Adjunct Professor. Other teaching assignments included the U.S. Navy War College and the U.S. Army War College where he was appointed to the Henry L. Stimson Chair in Political Science in 1969. Much of his academic work ran parallel to that in the U.S. government. Between 1956 and 1960, he served in the CIA Area and Language School. In 1960, he joined the USA Information Agency (USIA) and worked in its Office of Research, mainly on Western European affairs, until 1982. In addition to several major reports for the Agency, he kept publishing on his own, mostly articles in learned journals, encyclopedias, and yearbooks. Upon retirement in 1982, he started on a third career: literary writing. A book on the history of European national anthems was added to a couple of previous books. Among unpublished manuscripts are a personalized chronicle of the twentieth century and a collection of short stories. There is also a series of diaries, kept since the birth of his son in 1954, and numbering more than fifty volumes. Whatever the fate or use of these writings, the greatest achievement in the mind of their author is that he had a part in raising three generations of solid Americans since he arrived in New York as an aspiring immigrant. Notes for John Michael TWOROGER:

John Tworoger May 14, 1943 - Feb. 7, 2008 John Tworoger of Austin and San Diego, passed away on February 7. A dedicated family man and successful entrepreneur, John approached all aspects of life with incredible passion, integrity, and perseverance. Founder of the powerhouse commercial real estate investment and development firm Aspen Properties, the company's tag line, "a legacy of quality development," sums up well the kind of honorable reputation John built both personally and professionally. After growing up in Chicago, John earned degrees in chemistry and psychology from North Central College in Naperville, Illinois. He then served in the U.S. Army as a captain in Vietnam where he was awarded a Bronze Star. John went on to receive his MBA from the University of Southern California. It was there in California when John's foray into real estate began. This was the field in which he would ultimately build a well- rounded, thriving, multi-state portfolio. In the beginning, he was a one-man operation that purchased apartments in need of repair and repositioning. A self-made man, John took great pride in maintaining a hands-on approach to all aspects of business from that point on. In 1976, John founded Aspen Properties, where he controlled millions of square feet of office, industrial, retail and residential properties that he developed or acquired. The company was particularly active in the Austin and San Diego markets. Even as the company's owner and top executive, John never gave up the practice of keeping a plumbing snake in the trunk of his car. As he put it, why pay for a plumber to fix a toilet he could unclog himself. John married his wife and true soul mate, Brenda, in 1998. John had the utmost regard, respect and belief in his wife, and regularly acknowledged much of his success was due to simply doing as she told him. The two enjoyed a 9 year marriage and worked side by side in business together. In addition to Aspen Properties, John was a franchisee and partner in many Burger King restaurants in the San Diego area. Along with his business partner, Roger Swift, they developed numerous Burger King restaurants from the ground up. John was an active member and leader of the Board of Trustees for his alma mater, North Central College. He was also an active participant and donor to the Boys and Girls Club and supporter of other groups like the Hill Country Conservancy. John was passionate about the field of real estate, and identifying and fostering growth in others. He intently went about hiring the finest talent as a way of building the best business. This resulted in the creation of a company with many loyal and longtime employees. In his free time, John enjoyed good conversation, fine wine, entertaining, playing golf, a good cigar, traveling and most of all spending time with family and friends. John leaves a vast void in the lives of innumerable family members, friends, employees and professional associates. He is survived by wife Brenda, and two children: Patrick Tworoger and Stacy Tworoger. Other survivors include: brother, Pete Tworoger, nephews Michael Tworoger and David Tworoger. In lieu of flowers the family requests donations be made in John's honor to the Foundation for Cardiovascular Medicine, 9834 Genesee Ave. #310, La Jolla, CA 92037. A viewing will be held February 13, from 4:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m., at El Camino Memorial Park, located at 5600 Carroll Canyon Road in San Diego. Services will be held February 14, beginning at 1:30 p.m., at the San Dieguito United Methodist Church, located at 170 Calle Magdalena in Encinitas. A reception will immediately follow. A memorial reception will be held February 21, from 4:00 p.m. - 7:00 p.m., at the Four Seasons, at 98 San Jacinto Boulevard in Austin.

Victor Stone

June 19, 1920 - November 28, 2010

Posted: 12/03/2010 01:00:00 AM MST

Victor Stone passed away peacefully at his home in Boulder, CO on November 28, 2010. He was ninety years old. Vic was born on June 19, 1920 in Münster, Germany. In 1937, at the age of sixteen, Vic left Germany and traveled alone to the USA. Nazi edicts had already prohibited him from finishing high school and it was clear that the situation was rapidly worsening for Jews. The rest of his family was still trying to make arrangements to leave Germany and followed within a couple of years.

With limited English, and no job skills, Victor sought out a relative in Herkimer, New York, hoping to obtain a job in a shoe factory. When that job didn't materialize, he followed another job lead and traveled by train to Holbrook, Arizona where he secured a job at a trading post.

In 1942, Victor enlisted in the USA Army. He served until April 1946. He was dispatched to India and Burma where he served as a postal clerk. Those who knew Vic agree that this is the only military position in which they can imagine him serving.

Upon discharge from the army in 1947, Vic married Margot Nashelsky, also a German immigrant. They had three children, Helen, Philip and Esther and shared their life together until Margot's death in 2003. Their fifty-six year marriage took them all over the world, but not at first.

Margot's parents owned the Ben Franklin store in Fowler, CO, with a thriving metropolitan population of 1,200. Though Margot and Vic were not your typical southeastern Colorado farm family, they quickly assimilated into the community and remained there until they retired to Boulder in 1994. Their Ben Franklin store was the hub of the town.

Victor was an intellectual. Reading, ruminating and, at times, pontificating were his passions. In the early 1960's, he was finally able to continue his education. He first attended a community college in La Junta and then obtained a bachelor's degree in Spanish and German from Colorado State University in Pueblo, graduating college at the same time his oldest daughter, Helen, graduated high school.

Victor then started his next career as a teacher in Fowler. He taught Spanish, German, history and geography for almost two decades. Victor was born to be a teacher; he loved sharing his knowledge and enthusiasm about the world.

In 1994, Vic and Margot retired from Fowler, CO to Boulder, CO. They easily navigated this major culture shift. Vic tutored students at Fairview High School in German and Spanish. He played bridge, went to concerts and lectures at CU, attended the opera and read and read and read. He moved to the Meridian after Margot's death where he formed close relationships and was an active participant in the community.

Perhaps it was the immigrant's journey from a large German city to small USA towns to India and Burma that inspired Victor's passion for history, geography and travel. He and Margot visited every continent except Antarctica. The Diaspora brought members of the Nashelsky family to South America. Vic and Margot visited every country in South America except Venezuela. Vic's mastery of Spanish made Mexico a frequent destination. All it took was a call from their travel agent that China was opening to tourism and off they went. From African safaris to Cuba, Vic and Margot were the consummate travelers. They returned twice to Germany at the invitation of German organizations working to reconcile with the Jewish refugees. They always returned from their travels with fascinating tales, not quite focused photos and select trinkets. Almost every object in Victor's home represents a story from around the world. And Vic was a storyteller.

When Victor learned his death was relatively imminent, he used his final month to visit with family and old friends. He was full of reminiscences, but no regrets. Victor was the first to say he had lived a long, rich life. He was never bitter about lost opportunities. His family and friends will deeply miss his dry wit, intelligence and curiosity about everything.

Vic is survived by his daughter, Helen Stone of Boulder, CO, his son Philip Stone and Phil's wife, Mary Kay, of Colorado Springs, CO, his grandson Aaron, granddaughter Lia and three great grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his wife, Margot, his daughter Esther and his brother Ernest.

A memorial service will be held at the Meridian, 801 Gillaspie Drive, Boulder, CO, on Sunday, December 5, 2010 at 10:00 a.m. In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made in to the Boulder

He died on 03 Apr 2016 in Scottsbluff, Scotts Bluff, Nebraska, USA<sup>776</sup>. She was born on 19 Jan 1939 in Danville, Montour, Pennsylvania, USA<sup>777</sup>. She died on 27 Sep 2008 in Scottsbluff, Scotts Bluff, Nebraska, USA (tobacco related lung disease).

Notes for Gunter Martin "Gunter Martin Naschelsky" NASHELSKY:

Gunter Martin Nashelsky, 89, of Scottsbluff, NE died on April 3, 2016 at the Western Nebraska Veterans Home.

Gunter was born on July 7, 1926 in Germany, the youngest child of Julius and Friedel Nashelsky. Life for Jews was changing in Germany. Early on, Gunter's parents anticipated the Holocaust; the family departed Germany in 1934. They emigrated to Woodward, Oklahoma where Julius' brother had lived for many years after emigrating as a teenager.

Gunter and family moved to tiny Fowler, Colorado in 1938. His parents opened the Nash Store, a "five & dime" type of general store. The business later joined the Ben Franklin company in the 1950s. Gunter's adolescence and teen years were in Fowler and he graduated from Fowler High School in 1945, the only male in a class of 19. Perhaps it was in high school that Gunter became such an incorrigible flirt.

Gunter enlisted in the US Army and was assigned to the Special Services. His official title was "Entertainment Specialist". Gunter traveled in post-war Japan and Korea as part of the military entertainment corps, plying his trade as a magician, The Great Blizzard. He broke many eggs in the hands of generals during magic shows, so promotions were slow in coming. His best magic trick was having a pass (it was genuine) that exempted him from the standard military haircut. Gunter eventually rose to the rank of technical sergeant.

After honorable discharge, Gunter returned to Colorado. He took premedicine courses at Denver University followed by medical student years at the University of Colorado School of Medicine. He lived on "the hill" in Boulder before it was cool and worked as a food server in a sorority (what a surprise). Gunter received the "Art of Medicine" award during his fourth year of medical school and graduated in 1953. He then trained in Internal Medicine and Rheumatology.

Gunter moved to San Francisco in 1957 where he hung out his shingle. He was eligible, dashing, and clever. And a darn good physician too, with a way of communicating with patients that put them at ease. Gunter's instinctive bedside manner enhanced care for his patients. He just had "it", whatever that is.

Gunter gladly made house calls and, central to family lore, enjoyed a long run as the "house doctor" for the exclusive San Francisco Fairmont Hotel. If you remember Barbara Hutton, then you've heard of one of Gunter's more high maintenance Fairmont patients.

Gunter was ahead of his time when he established his own brand of rehabilitation medicine before it was a separate medical specialty. The "redaptor" - a simple wood dowel - was used for light exercise and range of motion. Gunter was obsessed with the redaptor, as most past patients will know. He sustained this interest well into retirement and his own advanced disability via classes at the Western Nebraska Veterans Home.

Gunter met Joan Bartholomew in 1960. She was an Army nurse (First Lieutenant), far outranking Gunter's modest ascent in the post WWII army. Theirs was a whirlwind romance that involved a blind date and a huge box of toilet paper (more family legend). After the wedding in December 1960 Joan promptly shipped out to Alaska for her last assignment. Sons Marcus and David arrived in 1962 and 1963. The family prospered in San Francisco - Gunter's medical practice thrived and Joan became a civic force to be reckoned with.

Colorado beckoned so the family moved to Denver in 1970. Gunter blended a rheumatology centered private practice with work as the Medical Director of Spalding Rehabilitation Center. Never a family to sit still, Gunter and Joan saw another opportunity in western Nebraska to settle near Mitchell where his older brother Deiter and sister-in-law Lore owned the Ben Franklin store. Dr. Cal Oba had described to Gunter a growing hospital and medical staff, and the need for more internal medicine physicians. Scottsbluff became the new family home in 1975.

Gunter became established as an adult medicine specialist, rheumatologist and de facto geriatrician. Most patients simply adored Gunter.

Gunter and Joan loved dogs. Over time, a hobby became a passion. The dog business grew as Gunter transitioned from medicine to retirement. Gunter and Joan moved to the country - rural Crawford, NE followed by rural LaGrange, WY - and developed a full-fledged kennel business.

Declining health caught up with Gunter and Joan, and forced retirement from raising their beloved dogs in 2005. They moved to Gering and Minatare, never quite figuring out how to be retired. Gunter and Joan moved to the Western Nebraska Veterans Home in 2007. Finally, they relaxed.

Joan and son David died months apart in 2008. Gunter endured. He surrounded himself with books, read newspapers, maintained a few important friendships, continued his hobby of writing marginal poetry, and generally established himself as a charming older fellow at WNVH. Gunter's health and mobility gradually declined to the point of requiring nursing home care. He had advanced deafness, a handicap that more often resulted in a good laugh than frustration.

Gunter adored the extremely caring staff at WNVH and often said that he could not be in a better place. For Gunter, this was the culmination of an exceptional immigrant experience. He marveled at the opportunities available to his parents, siblings and children. Gunter was a proud American and a proud veteran.

Gunter passed away peacefully, in the compassionate company of those who had cared for him day to day, for many years.

Gunter left behind a son Marcus Nashelsky and his wife Joan, daughter-in-law Wendy Nashelsky, and grandchildren Shayna and David Nashelsky.

It was Gunter's request to not have a memorial service.

The family is extremely grateful to the Western Nebraska Veterans Home for their extraordinary care of Gunter and Joan. They received the high standard of care provided to all who live at WNVH. Memorial gifts may be sent to the Western Nebraska Veterans Home, 1102 West 42nd St, Scottsbluff, NE 69361.

published 2008-09-29

Joan Bartholomew Nashelsky, 69, of Scottsbluff, NE died of tobacco-related lung disease on Saturday September 27, 2008.

Joan Bartholomew was born on January 19, 1939 in Danville, PA, and was the daughter of Wesley and Clementine Bartholomew. She grew up in Philadelphia, PA. She graduated from Albert Einstein Medical Center School of Nursing in 1959. Joan enlisted in the USA Army, received her commission as a 2nd Lieutenant, and was stationed at Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco, CA.

Lt. Bartholomew was gorgeous, and met the dashing Dr. Gunter Nashelsky on a blind date on October 4, 1960. He was 12 years older, physician to the stars at the Fairmont Hotel, and hadn't yet found the one. They were married by three rabbis in San Francisco after a two-month courtship, attended only by two of Gunter and Joan's closest friends. Joan and Gunter's mothers (in Philadelphia and Denver) cried for days afterwards, according to family legend. Lt. Nashelsky shipped out to Alaska 3 weeks after they were married. After her honorable discharge from the US Army in 1961, Gunter and Joan made their home in San Francisco, CA, where Gunter had his medical practice. In San Francisco, Joan raised two sons and one husband, and was a founding member of the Brandeis Jewish Day School, which was the first school of her young sons.

Joan and Gunter moved to Denver, CO in 1970 and to Scottsbluff in 1975. Joan received a Bachelor's Degree in Anthropology from the University of Denver and a Master's Degree in Counseling from Chadron State College. In Scottsbluff, Joan returned to her nursing roots as a counselor and recruiter for the University of Nebraska Medical Center College of Nursing, Scottsbluff division. She also worked as a nursing instructor at Nebraska Western College and served on the Scottsbluff Board of Education. Dogs became a consuming hobby, and Joan established Shalom Kennels in rural Crawford, NE and, later, rural LaGrange, WY. Gunter was a reluctant breeder, balancing Joan's relentless enthusiasm. He eventually came around (of course), and they made a go of it. Joan specialized in very small dogs well suited to be companions for elderly individuals. Incrementally declining health finally brought about their retirement in 2005.

Since January 2008, Joan and Gunter were proud and active residents of the Western Nebraska Veterans Home. Joan was elected Chairperson of the Members' Council in summer 2008. She was committed to this new leadership role, and approached it with her usual zest.

Joan is survived by her husband Gunter of Scottsbluff, son Marcus (Joan) of Iowa City, IA, daughter-in-law Wendy Nashelsky and grandchildren Davey, Shayna, Cory and Scott of Ft. Collins, CO. Joan and Gunter's son David died in June 2008.

There will be no visitation or service as cremation has taken place at the Jolliffe Funeral Home Crematory. The family requests that there be no memorials aside from remembering Joan well.

Dr. Corina Marx

Dr. Corina Marx obtained her BSc in Plant Biology from the University of California at Berkeley. She then went on to obtain her PhD in the Plant and Microbial Biology department of the University of California at Berkeley studying the role of proteases in the regulation of seed dormancy.

Dr. Marx shifted her focus to biomedical sciences to pursue a specialisation in cancer research during her postdoctoral fellowship. She worked for six years at the department of Cancer and Developmental Therapeutics of the Buck Institute for Age Research, where she participated in several projects, mainly investigating the molecular basis for the resistance or sensitivity of breast cancer cell lines to small molecule inhibitors. While trying to understand the mechanism of action of a proteasome inhibitor, Dr. Marx became interested in the role of ubiquitin in the regulation of various cellular processes, which became the focus of her research and the main topic of her latest publications.

Dr. Marx is an experienced writer and editor with two years of specific editing experience and ten years of experience writing and reviewing manuscripts and grants. Although the emphasis of Dr. Marx's research is Oncology and Cell Biology, her diverse background and experience has provided her with the necessary expertise to edit manuscripts in a broad range of scientific fields.

Notes for Schalom Fritz BEN-CHORIN:

From: <https://www.encyclopedia.com/religion/encyclopedias-almanacs-transcripts-and-maps/ben-chorin-schalom>

BEN-CHORIN, SCHALOM (1913-1999; until 1931 Fritz Rosenthal ), German philosopher, journalist, and writer. Ben-Chorin grew up in an assimilated family in Munich. Causing severe conflicts with his family, he discovered Judaism in 1928, showing an interest in the Jewish religion, Zionism, and modern Jewish literature at the same time. He also took on the name "peace, son of freedom" (Schalom Ben-Chorin). Following Martin *Buber he sought an alternative to Orthodoxy and secular Zionism, which he finally found in Reform Judaism (cf. Jenseits von Orthodoxie und Liberalismus, 1937). Having left his apprenticeship as a bookseller at the Jewish Ewer bookstore and studying German literature, theater, and religion, he was arrested and mistreated in the streets of Munich in 1933, a turning point in his life (cf. his autobiography Jugend an der Isar, 1974). In 1935 he immigrated to Palestine and started working as journalist for German newspapers (articles collected in Begegnungen, 1991) as part of a group of German-Jewish intellectuals and writers in Palestine. Together with the writer Gerson Stern he edited an early anthology of German-Jewish literature in Palestine and himself wrote novels and poetry (Menora. Eine Auswahl literarischen Schaffens in Erez-Israel, 1941). Ben-Chorin was much better known, however, as a thinker in Reform Judaism - he also laid the foundation of the Reform community in Jerusalem in 1958 (the Har-El-Synagogue) - and as philosopher of religion mediating between Judaism and Christianity. On the one hand, he wrote several fundamental and introductory works on Jewish theology, anthropology, and ethics, such as for example Juedischer Glaube (1975), which is based on a series of lectures at Tuebingen and aims at portraying the theology of Judaism according to Maimonides' classic model of the 13 *Articles of Faith, though more for a non-Jewish audience (cf. also Die Tafeln des Bundes, 1979; Juedische Theologie im 20. Jahrhundert, 1988). On the other hand, he reflected upon the relation between Judaism and Christianity, seeking not only the differences but much more the links. While still in Munich and under the name Rosenthal he wrote the poem Der Rabbi von Nazareth (in Das Mal der Sendung, 1935). In this spirit, from 1940 he wrote several books promoting the Jewish-Christian dialogue (Die Christusfrage an den Juden, 1941; Das christliche Verstaendnis des Alten Testaments und der juedische Einwand, 1941), an endeavor which he stepped up after the war, traveling to Germany from 1956 and still writing in German (Theologia Judaica, 1/2, 1982, 1992; Weil wir Brueder sind, 1988). In this context, he made clear the Jewish origins of Christianity, interpreting some of the central figures of Christianity like Jesus, Paul, and Miriam (cf. the trilogy Die Heimkehr, consisting of Bruder Jesus, 1967; Apostel Paulus, 1970, Mutter Mirjam, 1971). As a catch-phrase symbolizing his approach, the often-quoted sentence from his book on Jesus might be cited: "Der Glaube Jesu einigt uns, aber der Glaube an Jesus trennt uns" ("The faith of Jesus unifies us but the belief in Jesus separates us"). At the same time he tried to answer a central theological question which came up after the Holocaust: the meaning of suffering and the absence of God (e.g., Als Gott schwieg, 1986). He was highly esteemed for his efforts at bringing about a new Jewish-Christian and Jewish-German dialogue after 1945. Ben-Chorin died in Jerusalem.

Chief Minister : Rabbi Philip Heilbrunn

Rabbi Philip Heilbrunn BA LLB, our Chief Minister, was invited to become the spiritual leader of our Congregation in 1988 upon the retirement, of Rabbi Ronald Lubofsky AM. Building on the foundations laid by his long serving predecessors, Rabbi Heilbrunn has brought his own talents and warm welcoming style to St Kilda Shule. He has motivated our Ministers, Board, the Shule administration and all our members to focus on furthering St Kilda Synagogue's reputation as an inclusive congregation where all Jews feel at home. He reaches out to all without judging them or their level of observance and warmly offers them opportunities to enrich the Jewishness of their lives. He has endeared himself to the entire community and his great empathy with people brings joy to the many Simchas celebrated at our Shule while his caring compassionate approach are a great source of comfort in times of suffering and sadness.

Rabbi Heilbrunn is also an outstanding Chazan with an International reputation, a role which complements his Rabbinic accomplishments. Together with our Choir, Rabbi's renditions create an unsurpassed atmosphere of beauty and inspiration in our services. Rabbi Heilbrunn's Cantorial talents are widely sought and freely put at the disposal of the Jewish community. He regularly appears on the Concert stage or in our Synagogue's celebrated Chazanut Concerts with other Chazanim, artists and choirs from around the world to share his beautiful tenor voice with his appreciative audiences.

He served as a Rabbi and lecturer in Jewish Studies in the Jewish Students University Programme in South Africa for several years.

Our Rabbi emigrated to Australia and Sydney's North Shore Synagogue in 1979, together with his wife, Pnina, and daughters Gita and Talya. Their daughters Estee and Adina are "Aussies" having been born in Sydney and Adelaide respectively.
